

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Dr John Wreglesworth Scholarship 2025/26

You are eligible for this scholarship if:

1. You are applying to join the Department of History at Durham University in October 2025 to take an Honours degree or a Joint Honours degree with a 50% minimum History Content; and
2. Your official fee status is Home student; and
3. You have a household income (as assessed by Student Finance England or the equivalent UK government body) of below £62,342
4. You have been educated at a state-maintained UK school, college or other education provider for the whole of your education (or in the case of asylum seekers and refugees the whole of your education since arrival in the UK);
5. At the time of applying you are living at an address in the North East of England which has a postcode beginning with the letters NE, SR, TS, DH or DL

We would particularly welcome applications from those who are the first generation of their family to attend higher education and/or are care experienced or are estranged from their family

Scholarship recipients can expect:

1. Termly payments of your scholarship
2. Support with any queries relating to your scholarship.

As a scholarship recipient of the University you must agree to abide by the following Terms and Conditions. Not meeting the following conditions could result in the continuation of your Scholarship being reviewed.

Scholars will be required to:

1. Act as an ambassador for Durham University and the Department of History by taking part in any external interviews, events or publications associated with your scholarship (wherever possible) whilst adhering to University codes of conduct, practice and policy, acting in a professional and positive manner.
2. Maintain regular contact with the donor of your scholarship, typically via History and/or the Alumni Relations Office when notified, either in writing or through participation in a call or meeting;
3. Provide a short letter of introduction on commencement of the scholarship and short reports in the final term of each academic year, indicating the part that the scholarship is playing in your experience as a student of History at Durham University to be shared with the loved ones of the legator of the award (guidance will be given);
4. Understand that the reports you provide will be shared with the loved ones of the legator who is funding your scholarship. You may be asked for your permission for these reports to be published in full or in part in Departmental or University publications in print and/or online for advertising and other promotional purposes.

5. Understand that the University reserves the right to suspend or withdraw your scholarship in the event that you breach or fail to adhere to any University regulation, code of practice or policy at any time during the course of your studies.
6. Be aware that should you, as a Wreglesworth scholarship awardee, accept funding for a Master's year and then wish to go on to study a PhD, this scholarship could affect your eligibility to seek ESRC Postgraduate funding (please speak to a member of the department for further information).

Scholarship Continuation

Your scholarship is available for the duration of your degree.

Withdrawal

Scholars who withdraw from their scholarship commitments or from the University may have all future scholarship payments cancelled.

If you withdraw, at any point during the teaching term, scholarship payments which have already been made may be reclaimed on a pro rata basis. Under exceptional circumstances, this decision can be reviewed by the Department of History and approval may be given for the student to retain any overpayments.

Suspension of Studies

Scholars who suspend their scholarship commitments or academic studies may have all future scholarship payments cancelled.

If you suspend, at any point during the teaching term, scholarship payments which have already been made may be reclaimed on a pro rata basis. Under exceptional circumstances, this decision can be reviewed by the Department of History and approval may be given for the student to retain any overpayments. The remaining yearly balance will be payable on resumption of academic and scholarship commitments. Mitigating circumstances for the re-instatement of the scholarship may be put forward for consideration by the Department.

Data Protection Statement

Any personal data provided by Recipients in relation to their scholarship will be used by the University to process and administer your scholarship award. The data will be held by the Development and Alumni Relations Office and will be managed in accordance with the provisions of the General Data Protection Regulations.

Information relating to Recipients may be retained by the University for up to 10 years. Recipients acknowledge that names, photographs, annual reports and comments relating to their scholarship may be published by the University even after the Recipient is no longer enrolled at the University.

In accepting this scholarship you acknowledge and agree to the information which you provide as described above being held and processed by the University for the purposes specified herein.
